Love endures forever –
so the saying goes.
What comes after forever?
It seems nobody knows.

Joy exists in small events that take place throughout each day.
When taken all together –
Joy happens just that way.

Peace comes in pieces
in little moments of time.
Peace is an outcome –
10 pennies for a dime.

Patience holds a space of waiting Not acting without first listening.

Kindness can be a part of everything we do.
It's an attitude and frame of mind with compassion mixed in too.

Goodness contains selfless acts of doing.
Perceived in abundance from a loved one's viewing.

Faithfulness is a vow to strengthen the ties Between us as we advance in each of our lives.

Gentleness is a mood in our actions with each one With respect and dignity in all that is done.

Self-Control evades me
in ways to be more fit.
So, I'll make a goal of loving you and know I'll accomplish it.

I had nothing to offer anybody except my own confusion.

Jack Kerouac

When in doubt – Do something!

Harry Chapin

I have been reading
The Last Chairlift
by John Irving and the following quote resonates with a way of life I seek to follow: I loved the act of perfecting. (p. 149)

Tis the privilege of friendship to talk nonsense and have that nonsense respected.

Charles Lamb

Looking for the secret of age longevity:

You have to be lucky, but I made the best of things when bad things happened. I also ate prunes every single day.

Morris Lensky

We don't ask a flower any special reason for its existence. We just look at it and are able to accept it as being something different from ourselves.

Gwendolyn Brooks

Begin to be now what you will be hereafter.

William James

I have started to notice the manner in which people interact with Marsha while we are out shopping. When she meets someone, she tries to communicate something they don't understand and, often, I don't understand, as well. They are bewildered and don't quite know how to react. I need to pay more attention to this process and learn how Marsha's dignity and respect can remain intact during these interactions. Do I stand by letting the scene play out or interject with a smile and urging Marsha to move on?

Life is made up of small pleasures. Happiness is made up of those tiny successes. The big ones come too infrequently. And if you don't collect all these tiny successes, the big ones don't really mean anything.

Norman Lear

Marsha: What am I supposed to do?

*Don't let the light go out
It's lasted for so many years (Lasted for so many years)
Don't let the light go out
Let it shine through our love and our tears.*

Peter, Paul and Mary

"Saying nothing . . . sometimes says the most."

Emily Dickinson

"Don't dwell on the disease. Value the moments, the pearls of wisdom, their smile and humour."

When we seek to discover the best in others, we somehow bring out the best in ourselves.

William Arthur Ward

It is in the character of growth that we should learn from both pleasant and unpleasant experiences.

Nelson Mandela

FRIDAY

Each day I move toward that which I do not understand. The result is a continuous accidental learning which constantly shapes my life. Yo-Yo Ma

As the saying goes, you might as well be yourself; everyone else is taken.

Robert Bly

Expressing my feelings and then the opportunity to share it with others is just such a gift. (MS)

Keep all special thoughts and memories for lifetimes to come. Share these keepsakes with others to inspire hope and build from the past, which can bridge to the future. (MS)

SUNDAY

17

These four quotes originate from individuals born in the year of my birth: 1951.

You treat a disease, you win, you lose. You treat a person, I guarantee you, you'll win, no matter what the outcome. Robin Williams

I'm a great believer that you had to do everything you've done to have got to where you are. Bill Bryson

I think the labyrinth is an interesting metaphor for our lives as musicians. We're always being drawn toward the center of it because that's where the mystery is. What is music? It's a journey. Sting

The art of perfecting anything takes forever. ELP

I have suffered a great deal from writers who have quoted this or that sentence of mine either out of its context or in juxtaposition to some incongruous matter which quite distorted my meaning, or destroyed it altogether.

Alfred North Whitehead

These four quotes originate from authors from Hungary, the heritage of my dad.

If you are curious, you'll find puzzles around you. If you are determined, you will solve them. Ernő Rubik

Discovery is seeing what everybody else has seen, and thinking what nobody else has thought. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi

- Almost every situation we encounter in life presents possibilities for growth. ... But these transformations require that a person be prepared to perceive unexpected opportunities.

- We shape our life by deciding to pay attention to it. It is the direction of our attention and its intensity that will determine what we accomplish and how well. Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi

These four quotes are written by individuals from Illinois, the birthplace of Marsha and one of my daughters.

And he didn't really know where he was going, but he did know he was going somewhere, because you really have to go somewhere, don't you?

Shel Silverstein

- The rain will stop, the night will end, the hurt will fade. Hope is never so lost that it can't be found.
- I love you for all that you are, all that you have been, all that you're yet to be. Ernest Hemingway

Yesterday is done. Tomorrow never comes. Today is here. If you don't know what to do, sit still and listen. You may hear something. Nobody knows.

Carl Sandburg

Birds arrived at the feeder one after another as if an air traffic controller was directing the flight pattern to the Pancsofar residence.

I noticed each of these three clocks in different rooms of our house at the same time of day. Does it really matter which one is the "correct" time? Time is often irrelevant: we get up when we want, rest when we want, eat when we want, go to bed when we want Marsha: You may be right some of the time, but I'm right all the time!

Everything possible to be believed is an image of truth.

William Blake

Not sure I grasp the meaning implied by Blake. I more firmly believe in the following quote:

Many "truths" are manifested through seemingly endless means.

ELP

You can't prepare for everything.

John Irving
The Last Chairlift

These four quotes are written by authors from Oregon, the birthplace of one of my daughters.

- There are no right answers to wrong questions.
- The only thing that makes life possible is permanent, intolerable uncertainty; not knowing what comes next. Ursula K. Le Guin
- The answer is never the answer. What's really interesting is the mystery.
- Since we don't know where we're going, we have to stick together in case someone gets there.

Ken Kesey

"There is one thing Alzheimer's cannot take away, and that is love. Love is not a memory—it's a feeling that resides in your heart and soul."

These four quotes are written by individuals from Maine, the birthplace of yours truly.

Maine's long and cold winters may help keep our State's population low, but our harsh climate also accounts for what is unique and valuable about our land and our people. Tom Allen

In Maine, there is a deeply ingrained sense that you can always get a little more use out of something.

Tim Sample

Maine people have a live-and-let-live philosophy, and tend to be fair and open-minded. Chellie Pingree

The most important things are the hardest to say. Stephen King

This is Sunday, and the question arises, what'll I start tomorrow?

Kurt Vonnegut

THURSDAY

28

To arrive at the simplest truth requires years of contemplation.

Isaac Newton

FRIDAY

29

These five quotes originate from authors from Canada, the birthplace of my mom.

There's the story, then there's the real story, then there's the story of how the story came to be told. Then there's what you leave out of the story. Which is part of the story too. Margaret Atwood

I can only tell my story, what you believe is up to you. Yann Martel

- Twilight drops her curtain down, and pins it with a star.
- Next to trying and winning, the best thing is trying and failing.
- There be three gentle and goodly things: To be here, To be together, And to think well of one another.

Lucy Maud Montgomery
